SOCIETY.

Miss Florence Cregier, whose marriage will take place this evening, was honored with a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday given by members of a card club of which she is a member, in the Wedgewood room of the Cliver hotel. An emerald basket of Killarney roses was used in centering the luncheon table and there were covers beside Miss Cregier for Mrs. Frank Sherrill, Mrs. Arch C. Murdock, Mrs. W. K. Sherman, Mrs. Fred J. Roy, Mrs. Grace Pink Davis, Mrs. Bernard R. Myers and Miss Jessie Orr of Fort Wayne, Ind., who is visiting the bride-to-be.

The Pleasant View W. C. T. U. entertained the county union Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Augustine, 1801 Lincoln way W. Reports from the state convention at Elkhart were given by Mrs. W. U. Jeffries, Mrs. Jennie Copp and Mrs. R. C. Rallsback, county president, showing a membership of 16,000 in the state of Indiana, a gain of 700 during the past year. A union of colored women has increased in members and has organized 10 new unions, and an organization made up entirely of German speaking women has an enrollment of more than 200. Their meetings are conducted in German.

The social hour with refreshments followed the business meeting and Mrs. Timothy Shanafelt gave a vocal selection. Mrs. Harrison Hardman and Mrs. Charles Hopkins assisted the hostess during the afternoon. The next regular meeting of the Pleasant View W. C. T. U. will be held Nov. 10 with Mrs. Johanna Uldin, 1407 Lincoln way W.

Mrs. H. H. Flocke, 409 Edwardsburg road, entertained members of the Home Economics club of Clay and Harris townships Wednesday. The roll class responses were Irish stories. Mrs. Wilbert Metzger gave a vocal solo and contributed a paper on "Conditions Affecting the Growth of Bacteria." Mrs. Roy Nace had a reading: a paper on "Bacteria, Where Found." was given by Mrs. Ed Nace. A debate, resolved "A Business Training is Advantageous to the Housekeeper and Homemaker," was won by the negative. Mrs. Arthur Bacon and Mrs. V. B. Hartman were on the affirmative and Mrs. Roy Nace and Mrs. John Cheahart the negative side. There were two new members admitted to the club. A meeting of the club will be held Oct. 28, but the place will be decided upon later.

Miss Grace Meech entertained the members of the Junete Acti Laborers club Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Eleanor Galk, 525 S. Main st. A business meeting occupied the evening when arrangements were made for a Halloween barn party to be given at 614 S. Main st. on Wednesday evening, Oct. 27. Guests will be invited and all will come in costume. Miss Sibyl Jennings is chairman and Miss Elsie Meyers, assistant chairman, on the entertainment committee for the evening. Following the meeting the guests enjoyed a luncheon at the Philadelphia. There will be a special meeting Monday evening to complete plans for the party.

Members of the Mercy club were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Reeves, 1204 S. Michigan st. The afternoon was devoted to cards and the favors were taken by Mrs. Emma Eckert, Mrs. Mamie Frick and Mrs. Alice Brown. A luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Reeves will be hostess at the next meeting of the club, Oct. 27 at her home, 133 E. Tritt st.

Mrs. Emma Hosler, 410 S. William st., was hostess to the Violet club members on Wednesday. The guests were entertained at cards and Mrs. Mamie Riffel received the guest favor. First prize went to Mrs. John DeLaurier; second, Mrs. Frankel, and third to Mrs. Kilmer. The usual business meeting was held and a supper marked the close of the afternoon. Mrs. May Drager, 1139 N. Huey st., will entertain the club in two weeks.

The fortnightly meeting of the Tipperary club was held Wednesday with Mrs. John C. Parvis, at her home, 816 E. Washington av. The honors at cards were awarded to Mrs. Catherine Williams, Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. Harry Poff. Refreshments were served by the hostess during the afternoon. On Oct. 27 Mrs. Earl Sherman, 410 May st., will be hostess to members of the club.

Mrs. H. C. Kreighbaum, 8 St. Peter st., was hostess at the meeting of the Woman's Literary club Wednesday. Arnold Bennett was the subject for the afternoon, and Mrs. W. Hale Jackson gave a sketch of his life. Mrs. W. E. Miller discussed his book of essays entitled "Mental Efficiency." The social hour with refreshments was enjoyed after the meeting. In two weeks members of the club will meet with Mrs. E. R. Moore, 328 N. Michigan st.

The October meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Memorial church was held in the church parlors Wednesday. During the business time plans were made for a supper to be given some time in November. Light refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Charles Aldrich, Mrs. William H. Braham and Mrs. William Barnhart. The society will meet Nov. 10 in the church.

The department of history of the Progress club met for the regular meeting Wednesday at the club. "Early Days of South Bend," a paper by Mrs. Ryell T. Miller, which was begun at the last meeting, was concluded and Mrs. Nina Doolittle gave a paper on "The Cost of Governing the Hoosiers." Chapters 28 and 29 of the text book were read. The department will meet in two weeks.

An afternoon of crochet work was enjoyed by members of the Independent club at their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ella Murphy, 211 S. St. Joseph st. Late in the afternoon the hostess served a luncheon to the 12 members present. There will be a meeting of the club Oct. 27 with Mrs. John Shendaker, 1017 Franklin st., as the hostess.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church met with Mrs. Leslie McCorkle, 915 California av., Wednesday for an all day meeting with a large attendance of members. A basket dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was given to needlework and a social time. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday with Mrs. McCorkle.

A rummage sale has been arranged by members of the Auten W. R. C. No. 14, to be held some time during the month. Anyone desiring to contribute articles may call Mrs. Hazel Stout, Bell phone 1187, or Mrs. Florence Muesel, Home phone 2114.

Mrs. A. L. Brick, 745 W. Washington av., was hostess at the meeting of the Wednesday club yesterday afternoon. "Memoirs of Li Hung Chang" was the topic for the afternoon with Mrs. George A. Baker as the leader. The club will meet Oct. 29 with Mrs. Baker, 923 Portage av.

Mrs. C. Moomaw, 739 Diamond av., was pleasantly entertained the Diamond Thimble club Wednesday. The afternoon was spent in a social manner and Miss Bernice Keller rendered several piano numbers. Some time was devoted to sewing, and the hostess served refreshments. Mrs. David Austin, Greenacres, is to be the hostess on Oct. 27.

The W. C. Needle club was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Otis Robinson, 753 Sherman av. Needlework was the feature of the afternoon, and the hostess served a dainty luncheon. Mrs. William T. Wyant, 1044 Lincoln way W., will be hostess to the club Oct. 27.

The women's Bible class, 5-4, met with Mrs. F. C. Bucher, 436 N. Michigan st., Wednesday. Miss May Appleman, leader of the class, gave the study for the day from the book of Joshua. Mrs. Bucher will be hostess at the meeting next week.

Miss Elora Kellar, 634 E. Colfax av., was pleasantly surprised by a number of friends Tuesday evening in honor of her 18th birthday anniversary. Games and contests featured the evening and toward the close luncheon was served to 18 guests.

The Independent Order of Foresters met last evening in the W. O. W. hall. Routine business was transacted and a luncheon at the Philadelphia. There will be a special meeting Monday evening to complete plans for the party.

The regular meeting of the Lend-A-Hand club was held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Jennie Coder, 810 Van Buren st. Twenty members were present and enjoyed a short program consisting of several vocal solos by Miss Jennie Coder, Miss Maude Weaver and Miss Florence Forker; a piano selection by Miss Leta Parks; recitation by Miss Irma Tyler and Miss Florence Forker, and a reading by Miss Mildred Austin. The next meeting will be held with Misses Mildred and Vera Austin, 1315 Lincoln way E.

Mrs. J. P. Vermande, 812 E. Washington av., was hostess to members of the Industrial Bible class Wednesday afternoon. The time was spent with needle work and social diversions. Refreshments were served. On Oct. 28 Mrs. William Newman, 509 Howard st., will entertain with an all day meeting. The time will be spent in comfort tiling.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hicks, 753 Cleveland av., entertained very pleasantly Wednesday evening in honor of their sons, Lester and Herman. The affair was a surprise and 50 guests were present. The evening was given to games and music, and refreshments were served. The decorations of the house were potted flowers.

With a quiet wedding ceremony at St. Patrick's church, Miss Ida Mae Archambault, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Archambault, 905 W. Lasalle av., and James R. Cullen of Chicago were united in marriage at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. Rev. Father DeGroote performed the ceremony. The couple was attended by Mrs. George Spencer and Med Archambault, sister and brother of the bride. The bride was attired in a neat traveling suit of blue.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was served to the relatives at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Cullen have gone for a visit in Florida after which they will reside in Detroit.

Teach Your Child To Be Hospitable
Provide Cheerful Playroom in Which He May Entertain His Friends.

A woman who has made a study of hospitality planned a guest child playroom in building her new home. It is a large room on the top floor. Everything has been done to make it as cheerful and delightful as possible, says a New York Sun writer. The big windows are placed so as to catch all the sunshine. They are barred outside with prettily wrought iron grilling painted white. Inside the windows are provided with wire screens that stay in the year round. An errant block or ball flying windowward does not mean a broken pane in this carefully thought out nursery.

The walls are covered with wall linoleum of an attractive pattern. Smudges can be washed from this wall covering easily, and it does not tear or crack readily as does paper or paint. Linoleum also covers the floor. It softens the sound of romping feet, cleans easily, and does not gather dust like a carpet or yield any splinters as even the best wood floor may.

Furniture is simple and devoid of any sharp corners or points. It is very solid, offering imperturbable resistance to the child's trample it over. In a wide shelved cupboard, set high enough from the floor to be out of reach of little hands, are toys, games and books. Doors are provided on the cupboard on the theory that toys brought from cover are more fascinating than when constantly on view. But there are other toys and games that help to form the furnishing of the room, such as a rocking horse, a bean bag outfit, and other playtime diversions.

A gate is swung in the doorway of the room so that the space may still be barricaded if the door be left open. A key is never left in the door. A hook in the door and an eye in the wall, high up, hold the door firmly open when it is desired open.

Intelligent thought has been expended upon this room down to the last detail to make it a place where children may feel perfectly free for romping without constant cautions not to touch this or that and where they may romp and amuse themselves in perfect safety.

The guest child playroom is a kindly consideration—it is a kindness to grownups as well as to the visiting child.
